Project ExcellCity Joins Startup Fairs at ULSIT

On November 13, 2025, Project ExcellCity proudly participated in the inaugural edition of Startup Fairs – ULSIT. Hosted at the University of Library Studies and Information Technologies in Sofia, the event served as a vibrant hub for students, researchers, and industry leaders. We were honored to be part of this initiative, which successfully fostered an entrepreneurial mindset and bridged the gap between academic research and real-world business applications.

Our Vision for Smart Cities

ExcellCity showcased its vision for smart cities, demonstrating the power of education and technology in urban development. Positive feedback from investors and innovators confirms our commitment to research excellence through the National Recovery and Resilience Plan.
